Headteachers Message

"The best way to find out if you can trust somebody, is to trust them." Ernest Hemingway

Happy Children in Need day! It's been lovely to see our children in their bright clothes today in support of such a worthwhile charity. Thank you very much for your donations. It's been another busy week at Little Heaton, which began with our Remembrance Service in Church. It was clear that the children had put a lot of thought into the work they had done around armistice and remembering those who fought and died in past wars. We thoroughly enjoyed sharing their learning and the contributions they made to our service. A reminder that our next 'special' service in church is our Advent Service at 9:30, 29th November and we do hope you are able to join us!

We were also celebrated our new Well-Being Ambassadors this week and the training they participated in on Monday, as well as their contribution to our parents' anti-bullying cafe which took place on Thursday. They were excellent representatives of the school and we are looking forward to the on-going work they will be doing with our pupils.

Next week, our pupils will be exploring in more depth, what it means to be British with a focus on our democratic processes and how parliament works. We will end the week with a KS2 debate, which will be a wonderful opportunity for pupils to apply their learning and use their voice in influencing a whole-school change. We will let you know the outcome of their vote next week.

I know that Y4 have some exciting things in store to 'showcase' their learning on Thursday 14th November - we hope our Y4 families are able to join us for their learning exhibition at 9:00!

Have a lovely weekend!

Mrs McNeill - Interim Headteacher

Coats

Please can we request that all children have a coat (and possibly hat and gloves too) with them next week, as the weather is forecast to turn quite cold - we don't want any of the children to miss out on their fresh air due to the cold.
